

President Lolley is in process of visiting all the trustees of Southeastern Seminary as a part of the Lilly Foundation Grant for trustee education and orientation. Visits to Louisiana, Washington, and California are planned in connection with the SBC meeting at Los Angeles. The preliminary drafts of materials for new trustee orientation are scheduled to be completed in time for use with trustees elected in June at the Southern Baptist Convention.

TRUSTEE VISITS

Dean elect Morris Ashcraft and Associate Professor of Evangelism elect, Delos Miles, visited the campus with their wives during spring break. The Miles bought a house. The Ashcrafts settled on housing plans. Both families intend to be in Wake Forest for work beginning August 1.

ASHCRAFT AND MILES

Spring break came late this year (April 13-17). This occasioned conversation about revising the dates for spring break to correspond more with mid-term than with Easter which is irregular in relation to the academic calendar. The matter is under discussion.

SPRING BREAK

The seminary Public Relations Council met on campus April 26-27. Rod Byard worked with the members on a lengthy agenda including the development of a new seminary logo.

PUBLIC RELATIONS COUNCIL

Dr. Grover Andrews has practically completed his research on the academic administrative unit of the seminary and is preparing a paper which will include his recommendations for possible revision of certain features of the work assigned to the Dean of the Faculty. He has met with the task force, the faculty, the Executive Council, Student Council officers, and both Dean Meiburg and Dean elect Ashcraft. His recommendations will be considered during the Faculty Workshop in August.

CONSULTANT ON DEAN

The work group reports are now complete and final drafts are in the hands of the steering committee. Editing of the final report will begin shortly to be completed by the end of the summer.

SELF STUDY

Commencement exercises are scheduled May 15-16 for approximately 300 graduates. Jack Harwell, editor of the Georgia Christian Index, will preach the baccalaureate sermon. Dr. Luke B. Smith will deliver the charge to the graduates.
