The Presidents of the six SBC Seminaries met in their annual workshop during the first week of December. The agenda contained 28 items of significance and mutual interest to all the schools. Subsequent to the meeting the announcement came that Dr. Landrum Leavell has been elected president of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

SEMINARY
PRESIDENTS' WORKSHOP

Dr. Albert McClellan visited the campus in early December to meet with the Administrative Staff to lay preliminary plans for the work to be done in conjunction with the Long Range Planning Committee of the Trustees. The committee is scheduled to meet on the campus January 13th. Hopefully, the meeting will yield a structure for the planning process during the next several months.

LONG RANGE PLANNING

Dr. Olin T. Binkley, president emeritus, was honored last month at a dinner as the Wake Forest citizen of the year. All who know and appreciate Dr. and Mrs. Binkley wholeheartedly agree with the choice and extend to the Binkleys our profound congratulations.

DR. BINKLEY

The Graduate Studies Committee and the Faculty have recently perfected a number of changes in the Doctor of Ministries degree program. Among these are the development of a profile of factors to be utilized for admission to the program and a plan for field supervision of the project in ministry. The strengthened program will be detailed in the new Seminary catalogue. It will become effective for persons who enter the program in September, 1975.

D.MIN.
PROGRAM

Decisions have been made as to the design and detail for Southeastern's Doctor of Ministry candidates' hood. The new hood will be available for all graduates during the Spring Commencement, 1975.

D.MIN. HOOD

This semester, as an experiment in supervised ministry in the M.Div. program, two supervisory groups of eight to ten student ministers will meet regularly with a pastor and a professor. Dr. Willard A. Brown, Pastor of the Wake Forest Baptist Church, and Mr. Ted Janes, Pastor of the Youngsville Baptist Church, will share the leadership of these groups with Dr. Robert L. Richardson, Jr., Assistant Professor of Field Education.
