Welcome Back!

The Communication Office welcomes you back for the Spring 1993 semester at Southeastern! All student groups, faculty and staff are reminded that any contributions to the NewsLine are appreciated. The deadline each week will be Wednesday at 12:00 noon. Have a great semester!

Library Information

Word Processing is now available to you in the Library A-V Center! Dr. Maurice Robinson has graciously donated his P.C. for students to use. Programs include Word Perfect, Professional Write and On-Line Bible. There is no printer at present. Joel Robertson will assist you if needed. Take advantage of this opportunity.

CD-ROM Workstations are ready in the Reference area of the Library. Religious and Theological Abstracts, an index to location of articles in journals, is installed at one station, while both stations have CD WordLibrary. This full-text database allows you to search four versions of the Bible, four Bible dictionaries, four Bible commentaries, the Old Testament and the New Testament in Greek, and a Greek Lexicon. Religion Index is also scheduled to arrive in early February as well as Biography Index. Come try these amazing new learning tools soon.

Have You Heard?

Do you know that there have been some changes in the laws which may greatly affect your Income Tax Liability and your status as "self-employed." Learn some things which your church can do to reduce your income tax liability for this year by attending the "Compensation and Financial Planning Seminar for Pastors and Churches." This will be held January 19 from 7:00-9:00 p.m. in Binkley 101. The speakers will be Bob Henry of the Annuity Board and Jim Lambert of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention. Come with questions ready. Refreshments will be served. Call the Office of Continuing Education, 556-3101, ext. 318, for reservations.

Student Council

There will be a Student Council meeting January 26 at 5:00 in the Ledford Center snack area. We need to have the full Council in attendance. All students, faculty and administrative staff are welcome to attend.

Position Available

Programmer needed in the MIS Department. Must have programming experience or educational training in computer science. Call ext. 239 for more information.

Musical Opportunities

Seminary Choir

Open to all without fee or audition. Rehearsals are Tuesdays at 7:00 p.m., beginning January 26, in Binkley Chapel.

Chapel Choir

Singers needed for mixed (SATB) choral ensemble. Rehearsals are Thursdays, 3:00-4:00 p.m. The group will sing frequently in Chapel. Class credit is available for those who are interested.

Romania Trip

There will be a practicum to Romania offered in the Spring semester. The trip will take place February 26- March 8. Interested students must secure the permission of Dr. Phil Roberts. Applications are available in the Registry and in the Faculty Secretaries office.

Basketball

The SEBTS Intramural Basketball league will begin play on February 2. Sign up sheets will be posted in Appleby, Binkley, Ledford and the gym. Students, their families (age 16 and up), alumni and staff are all invited to participate. This is a co-ed league. Sign up as soon as possible. The draft will take place on January 29 and you will be notified of your team assignment soon thereafter.

My Dear Seminary Family

Thank you for the beautiful floral remembrance for my birthday. The basket is covered with beautiful ivy and will be a delightful addition to our Garden Room here at Magnolia Hill.

This turned out to be a very difficult week for me because of the tragic final days of suffering of a very dear friend. Thus, your sweet thoughtfulness reminded me again of the Creator who renews again and sustains us even in the dark days.

Dr. Patterson and I have felt love and experienced graciousness and acceptance here in Wake Forest. Thank you for all you have done to make us feel a part of the seminary family.

Getting Closer

In just two weeks we will know who on this campus can make the best chili! The judging will be tough! February 23 will be the day of decision for chili. Will someone from North Carolina win? Or will it be someone from, let's say Florida? We need participants to defend their state's chili. Will it be hot enough? What will the texture be like? How long did it take to make? You may sign up for the contest at the Ledford Center front desk. We encourage everyone to come and enjoy dinner after the judging takes place at 7:00 p.m. There is no charge. Just bring either a dessert or chips. Dinner sign-up is at the front desk also.

Thank You

On Tuesday before Christmas the seminary community ministered to us when I received a call. Ed was at Food Lion with our children Christopher and Christina when he became ill and collapsed into unconsciousness. The Business Office came to my aid in that Robin Reggi drove me to the store, Jan Fountain met me in the ER and the Business Office cared for the children until help could come. Many of you began praying for us, including Professors Richardson and Jackson who "happened" to see us in the ambulance. They called the switchboard to ask for prayer. It was at that very time en route to the hospital that Ed remembers coming back into consciousness and the paramedics began picking up a heartbeat and pulse which had previously been undetectable. "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." We are so grateful. Thank you.

Dear Southeastern Family

It's hard to believe that spring break is behind us and graduation is only a couple of months away! My first month at the bookstore has definitely been a learning experience. I hope you have noticed some changes in our store. If you haven't been in lately, stop by. We are adding new products each week. That's where we need your assistance. We want to stock items that will enhance your time here at Southeastern and enhance your personal walk with God. So let us know what those items are if you don't see them when you visit us. We keep a list of all suggested items. I promise you that each one will be given serious consideration.

The Baptist Book Store vision statement is our goal here at Southeastern: We will be the best Christian retailer, dedicated to surpassing customer expectations by providing relevant, high-quality, high-value products and outstanding service.

If we haven't met yet, stop in and introduce yourself. My door is always open.

An Open Letter to the Faculty of Southeastern Seminary

Dear Sirs

Nothing encourages us to win souls more fervently than hearing of other Godly examples doing the same. We need role models. The greatest impact you could have on our lives, is that which will see its results in eternity.

We greatly appreciate the way that you carry out your academic responsibilities here at Southeastern, but we also need practical examples of personal soul-winning. Few things will cause us to strive harder in personal evangelism than hearing testimonials from teachers whom we respect.

For this reason, we, the undersigned, students of Southeastern Seminary, do hereby invite all faculty members to participate in an accountability experiment. We are asking each of you to describe a personal soul-winning encounter in each class on a weekly basis. We are also asking you to record your description on paper. These one-page testimonials will be posted on a special bulletin board in the Ledford Center. This way, students who are not in your classes will be able to read about your experience. After five weeks of testimonials, we will hold a campus-wide meeting where you will be asked to share one of your experiences. This meeting will be held on Friday, April 30 at 10:00 a.m. in Binkley 101.

In your testimonials, both oral and written, we are requesting that you explain three essential details. Tell how you initiated conversation about the Gospel, what you said was necessary for salvation, and how the person responded. This encounter will be one that has occurred in the previous seven days.

Please know that this is strictly voluntary on your part. Seek our Lord's guidance in your decision, and know that we will rejoice in whatever God leads you to do.

It is our prayer that these testimonials will lead to an even greater sense of urgency on our part to share the Gospel with a dying humanity, resulting in a multitude of souls coming to faith in our Lord Jesus Christ.

Note to Students - Please stop by the front desk of the Ledford Center by Thursday, March 25 to sign the copy of this letter that will be distributed to the faculty.

Note to Faculty - You will be receiving a copy of this letter with a response form in your boxes later this week. If you are interested in participating please respond as soon as possible.

The last day to notify the Registry of a student's intent to graduate in the Fall 1993 semester is Friday, October 1. Graduation applications are available in the Registry and will not be accepted after the 30 day deadline. Graduating students are also required to schedule an appointment with Glenda Mosny to review their eligibility to graduate in this period. Students who plan to graduate in the Spring 1994 semester are also encouraged to make appointments.

School Board Forum

There will be an open forum of all school board candidates at the Wake Forest Town Hall (350 S. White St.) on September 28 at 6:30 p.m. A question and answer period will be included.

Library Lines

The Library's collection is primarily suitable for adults engaged in theological studies or religious ministry. If, however, you think your high school age children may be able to use some of the resources, provide them with a form of identification and tell them to register at the Circulation Desk before proceeding. Younger children will find that the Wake Forest Public Library on White Street has an excellent collection.
