WAKE COUNTY
COMMUNITY SCHOOLS:

The Community Schools program seeks to make available to area communities courses in basic skills and subjects such as beginning typing, auto mechanics, beginning and small engine repair. These will be offered on the Wake Forest-Rolesville High School campus beginning January 24 from 7:30 - 10:00 p.m. If you have special talents, training or abilities in these or other areas and would like to share them through the community school program, please contact the director, Mr. Bill Tench at 851-7710.

ALL STUDENTS:

The Formation in Ministry office has not received the necessary forms this semester on several students. Please check the lists on the bulletin board in the center hall of Appleby to see if your name is included. These forms are used to gather statistical information needed by this office and others on campus. Please help us in this task.

SAVE HUMANITY...

... or at least a part of it. Thousands of southeast Asian refugee families are fleeing from persecution in their homeland. Students of Southeastern and members of the community are uniting in an effort to sponsor a refugee family. A board of chairpersons is responsible for the tasks involved in settling this family in Wake Forest. We need your help in matters of employment, housing language, transportation, and finances. Interested? Contact Nancy Unterzuber (556-2420) or the Student Council Office.

Material for the Campus Bulletin must reach the Student Affairs Office by 12 noon Wednesday.
