Salvage for Victory

America's war factories need:

WASTE PAPER

OLD RAGS

SCRAP METALS

OLD RUBBER

Get in the Scrap! Start saving these today!

America must have raw materials to make the weapons our fighting men need for victory. Many of these materials can be made from so-called waste and scrap. Here's where you and every other American can take an active part—right at home—in the total effort we must have for total victory.

In our attics, cellars, backyards, garages—in our stores and on our farms—are waste materials that can help make ships, tanks, guns, and ammunition. Our old newspapers, magazines, cartons can make new paperboard to pack equipment for our armed forces. Even old rags and rubber are needed right away.

So, let's go—America. Salvage now—for victory!

WHAT TO SAVE

Waste Paper:

Save waste paper—don't burn it! Wrapping paper, cardboard cartons and boxes, paper bags, newspapers, magazines are needed to make new paperboard to pack foods, airplane and tank parts, shells and ammunition, and other articles.

Old Rags:

Cast-off clothing, burlap bags, draperies, mattresses, pillows, discarded carpets can be used in factories for wiping rags and for roofing and flooring materials in emergency construction.

Scrap Metals:

Iron, steel, brass, copper, aluminum, lead, etc., are needed. Dispose of discarded tools, metal beds, stoves, railings, tire chains, pots and pans, picture frames, hangers, pipe and hardware, batteries, and anything else made of metal.

Old Rubber:

Discarded auto tires and tubes, rubbers, overshoes can be reclaimed for military uses—and to make new tires and tubes.

Do not discard anything that is still useful and that might have to be replaced.

HOW TO SAVE

Flatten out cartons, boxes. Tie in neat bundles; keep dry and clean. Pile newspapers separately, and tie in separate bundles.

Keep rags, metals, and rubber separately—in cartons or bags if possible.

Let your children help. It will give them a part to play in the Victory program.

HOW TO DISPOSE OF WASTE

You may either sell waste materials to a collector (junk man) or give it to charities, schools, or other organizations which collect them.

If you prefer to sell and a collector does not make regular rounds in your neighborhood:

1. Look through the classified advertising section of your newspaper or telephone directory and get in touch with a collector. Wait until your collection of waste paper has reached 100 pounds (a pile about 5 feet high) before asking him to come for it. Dispose of metals, rags, and rubber at the same time.

2. Or take your collection to the nearest junk dealer's yard. By doing this you will help relieve the strain on collection facilities.

If you prefer to donate it, you may arrange with a local charity or other organization to collect it from your home. Where local schools are collecting scrap you may give your collection to your own or your neighbor's children to take to school with them.

IMPORTANT

This is a large country. Parts of it are so far from the mills that use waste paper, old rags, and rubber that it is not practical to collect and ship them hundreds or thousands of miles. If you are not sure about what materials can be salvaged in your neighborhood, consult a dealer, collector, or charitable organization making collections, or the salvage committee of your local defense council if one has been formed.

So, let's go—America. Salvage now—for victory!

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD

WASHINGTON, D. C.

IN REPLY REFER TO:

TO: THE HEALS OF ALL CHURCHES IN GEORGIA

FROM: GEORGIA SALVAGE COMMITTEE

Dear Friend:

In our desire to get this letter out to you as speedily as possible, it has been necessary to mimeograph it. Please do not feel, however, that it is any the less personal.

We are sure that you know the perils which our great country is now facing in the total war in which we are now engaged, and we are confident that no group in the nation is rendering a greater service in defense of the spiritual ideals and in the promotion of our national security than are the ministers of our churches. We realize that if this great struggle for our freedom is to be successful, every citizen must do his or her part and every resource must be conserved and salvaged.

Recognizing this fact, the War Production Board, through the Georgia Salvage Committee is seeking to save and recover many items which we have heretofore been wasting; such as, old rubber, scrap metals of all kinds, old rags, and waste paper. The need for this material is acute, and every day mills are running at less than capacity production, due to the lack of such vital material. The continued waste of these materials will spell our defeat.

We are seeking to enlist the interest of every citizen in this effort for the recovery of salvage, and we are writing each minister throughout the state asking his support in this necessary work.

After conferring with several prominent ministers of various denominations, we have decided to ask you, as the leader of your congregation, on Sunday, May 3rd, to preach a sermon urging the people to avoid waste and to conserve the vital materials for use by our Government in this crisis

Some of our ministers are using as the theme of their text for such a message, the incident of the feeding of the five thousand, in which the Master required his disciples to gather up the fragments that nothing be lost.

Relying fully upon your cooperation in rallying the people to the support of our boys at the front, we are

Cordially yours,

Albert Grady Harris
