CARVER-BARNES MEMORIAL LECTURES -- IN CHAPEL

The Carver-Barnes Memorial Lectures will be given at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, April 15-18, by Dr. Barrington R. White, Tutor in Church History, Regent's Park College, Oxford, England.

Under the title "Particular Baptist Foundations 1638 - 1660," Dr. White will give four lectures: 1. The Separatist Inheritance 2. Believer's Baptism under Fire 3. Mission Methods 4. Independence and Association. They will be delivered in the seminary chapel at 10:00 a.m. and are open to the public.

Dr. White holds a M.A. degree in theology from Queen's College of Cambridge University and a D. Phil. degree from Regent's Park College of Oxford University. Ordained in 1959, he became minister of the Andover Baptist Church, Hampshire, England, and was appointed in 1963 to teach church history and to do research in Baptist history at Regent's Park College. He lectures for the Oxford Theology faculty and acts as examiner of doctoral theses for the Universities of Oxford and London. He writes for English learned journals and in May will be inducted as President of the Oxford and East Gloucestershire Association of Baptist Churches.

The Carver-Barnes Memorial Lectures are made possible by anonymous donors in memory of Dr. W. O. Carver and Dr. W. W. Barnes and given annually at Southeastern Baptist Seminary.

THE 5th ANNUAL PASTORS' SEMINAR

The annual Pastors' Seminar will be conducted at Southeastern Seminary April 15-18 and is open to pastors of all denominations.

Dr. Theodore F. Adams, a former president of the Baptist World Alliance and pastor-emeritus of the First Baptist Church in Richmond, Va., will lead a class on "The Spiritual Resources of a Minister."

Dr. John T. Wayland, Professor of Christian Education at Southeastern, will assist him.

Dr. George A. Torney, Associate Secretary of Metropolitan Missions of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, will conduct another class on "The Social Involvement of the Minister."

The seminar is sponsored by the Alumni Association of Southeastern and is structured by a special alumni committee, of which the Rev. Jerry E. Niswonger of Zebulon is chairman.

LETTER TO THE ELITOR:

March 24, 1969

Sir:

As much as I would like to receive credit for that creative piece, "Parish Rector Rating Chart", I must not. "Submitted by Dr. George Shriver" is rather misleading if one take this to mean "written by." I did submit it to Mr. Caldwell as a well-intentioned filler --but in doing so, I told him that it had been handed on to me by one of the Baptist executives in Raleigh and had already appeared in the Biblical Recorder.

So, I cleanse myself of a possible plagiarism charge in this explanation!

And, by the way, thanks for printing it. It leads to healthy laughter--at--oneself.

George Shriver

LUNCH ANYONE?!

For many of us this is just wishful thinking, as we have classes from 11:00-3:00 or 4:00 everyday. Many students have the problem of no lunch hour, and this seems to be a situation worthy of the administration's consideration. Dr. Nations has offered one possible solution: No classes from 11:50-12:30, with the afternoon classes beginning on the half hour.

Oh, for a hamburger!

Sandy Phelps.

TIME OUT

The mighty Casey slowly walked to the mound to calm his young hurler Eugene Payne. The bases were loaded and only one man out and the stands of Poison Oak Stadium were humming with whispering mumbles as to what Met manager Casey Moody would do in the tense situation. Casey nodded in the direction of the bullpen where Moody himself was the only reliever available. Picking up his golden glove Casey Moody made the long walk to the hill of destiny. With his mustache twitching in the heat, and his tatoo reflecting living color over the ball park, Casey took his warmups and the Mysterious Mets were on their way to another victory. Met outfielder, balding Bill Bryant, provided the little extra magic that provided the Mets with their last inning rally that defeated the luckless Tigers. The Mets are now being lauded as the miracle team of '69.

Baseball Commissioner Bubba Robertson held a press conference last week and commented on the complaints about the officiating. Commissioner Robertson reported that he would back up any decisions made by him (umpire). The commissioner praised the dedication of his plate umpires in that in the face of stiff objections umpire Robertson had never swallowed his tobacco.

This Week's Super Heroes:

John (Casey) Moody--Only pitcher in league to dump faculty member with wild pitch and then laugh.

Paul Johnson--Speedy Johnson is only hitter in league to hit a 500 foot triple. Sherman Lewis--Sherman's fantastic basket bobble brought to mind the younger Willie Mays.

Gene Vallini--Broke record for nose diving catches, but recorded cannot be recorded because he missed the ball.

March 25: Padres -11; Tigers-7.

March 27: Mets-7; Angels-3.

April 8: Mets-7; Tigers-6.

April 10: Padres-7; Angels-2.

Fans come out and take part in spring sports if you want to see the Lemon League's great names.
