SEMINARY LIBRARY

The second term of summer school is well underway. Enrollment is 368 in 17 classes. One healthy upswing is in the first D.Min. Colloquium, with 20 new persons enrolled for this degree program.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Plant Services personnel have almost completed a very functional patio between Stealey Hall and Appleby Hall. Besides being attractive it will relieve severe water problems between the two buildings. It is complete with planter and benches.

PATIO

The five newly elected trustees of the seminary are to be invited to the campus for two days of orientation, September 8-9. This is a phase of the grant for trustee education and development made possible at Southeastern by the Lilly Endowment. Dr. Ben Fisher is consultant for the program.

NEW TRUSTEE ORIENTATION

Dean Albert L. Meiburg begins his sabbatical leave August 1. He will spend the year working with his former professor and colleague, Dr. Wayne Oates, in Louisville, Kentucky. The two of them are to be engaged in research into geriatric pastoral care. Dr. Meiburg will return to Southeastern during the 1982-83 academic year as a full-time teacher in pastoral care thus strengthening immensely the seminary's offerings in this very practical field.

DEAN MEIBURG

All the seminary family are indebted to Dr. Meiburg for the effective six years he has served as Dean of the Faculty.

President Lolley has just completed sessions involving more than 25 hours of evaluation with all members of the Executive Council. These processes are critical to the effectiveness of the seminary's MBO management techniques.
