To Whom it may concern:

In recent weeks I have had an opportunity to hear Norman F. Williamson, Jr. preach here at Concord. His messages were well received and very acceptable.

I have not seen another person of his age who had quite such a thorough mastery of the position he occupied. He is logical in his thinking, poised in his manner, thorough in his preparation and straightforward in his delivery. He is a good song leader and gives to the service a dignified and worshipful atmosphere.

Aside from the above I have known Norman for the past two or three years and have found him to be a youth of high character and ideals. He enjoys the background of an excellent Christian home and parents.

Sincerely,

Supt.
Hebron Baptist Sunday School.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that I have known Norman F. Williamson, Jr. for the past two years and that I have had an opportunity to observe him as a student in High School and as a young Christian.

Norman is above the average of his age in native ability and is a young man of excellent Christian character. He has dedicated his life to the Ministry of the Gospel and it was my privilege to hear him preach his second sermon which was delivered in the Meansville Baptist Church. I was very favorably impressed with the poise with which he spoke, with the clearness of his message and with his sincerity.

It gives me pleasure to commend Norman to the confidence of any College which he may attend or to any Church which may desire his services.

Respectfully,

Zebulon, Ga.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I am glad to say this in regard to Norman F. Williamson, Jr. of Concord, Georgia, now attending Mars Hill College in North Carolina.

I have known him for several years and have been impressed with his good character and conduct.

During an interval this summer, in which the Zebulon Baptist Church was without a pastor, we had him to supply for two services and his handling of the services and his message, including the delivery of the same, were very gratifying. Numerous expressions of others were heard to this effect.

He appears to grasp, even at this early age, a definite realization of a serious and lofty purpose in regard to his life, and I believe that he has the ability and the energy to apply himself heartily to that end.

Respectfully submitted,

C. R. Gwyn, Chairman,
Board of Deacons,
Zebulon Baptist Church.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I am glad to say that in regard to Herman W. Willeson, D.D., of Concord, N.H., now attending here with his family in North Carolina.

I have known him for several years and have been impressed with his good character and conduct.

During an interval in his answer, in which the Zephon Baptist Church was without a pastor, he had him to supply for two services and his handling of the services and his message, including the delivery of the same, were very excellent. Numerous expressions of others were heard to this effect.

It appears to me, even at this early date, a full realization of a service and fully express in regard to his life, and I believe that he has the ability and the energy to apply himself heartily to that end.

Respectfully submitted,

E. W. DEAN, Chairman,
