

Early on a rainy morning, December 20, the library staff teamed with a corps of student employees to begin the move of the library collection into the expanded and renovated facilities. The move is on schedule and Dr. McLeod expects to operate from the new facilities when classes begin, January 18.

LIBRARY MOVE

Portions of the second and third floors lack some furnishings. Hopefully, the alumni library campaign, which continues through 1977, will provide funds to complete the project.

Barbara Humble and the Seminary Mixed Choir gave the entire community and region a Christmas gift on December 7. "Messiah" was sung, utilizing 107 singers, portions of the Raleigh Symphony and some guest soloists. Binkley Chapel was practically filled for the occasion.

MESSIAH

The campus has finally quieted after a series of special Christmas events: Student Caroling and Chrismon Tree, The Community Christmas Dinner, The Seminary Family Christmas Dinner, Dorm Christmas Parties, and other activities. Students are "home" for the holidays, to return January 18. The Registrar predicts the largest ever January entering class. So - the calm settles, only to stir again soon!

CHRISTMAS EVENTS

The Seminary served as host for a "y'all come" traditional New Year lunch on New Year's Day, 1977. The menu consisted of black-eyed peas, hog jowl, cabbage, and corn bread. More than 300 persons from Wake Forest came by the Seminary Cafeteria during the two-hour "come and go" luncheon for a friendly chat, a helping of traditional cooking, and a genuine good wish for a happy and productive new year.
