

INTER-COM

Occasional Publication of
The Southeastern Seminary Library

INTEREST

INTERPRETATION

COMMUNICATION

COMMUNITY

Volume 6

September 30, 1980

Number 1

SECOND COPIER DUE NEXT WEEK

No later than October 10, we expect to have a second Xerox 4000 Copier operating in the Copier Room across from the AV office. We hope this means that you can expect less waiting for access to a copier.

Moving our copier operations to the present location has enabled this increase in copying capacity. At least of equal importance, the move has removed the associated noise from an area where it adversely affected reference services and study space. As expected, staff in the Circulation and Reference Departments, not having to contend with the copier this fall, report a bit less stress. Meanwhile, the AV Department is adjusting to the new responsibility for managing the copier service.

RECENT FACULTY/STAFF PUBLICATIONS

Since our issue of July 31, 1980, the following publications have been noted or reported to us. Please don't be too modest to let us know of your publications. In fact, we would be most pleased to have advance notice.

DALE, ROBERT D.

"How Much South is in Southern Baptists?" Search, Fall, 1980, pp. 44-49.

"How to Write a Resumé." Church Administration, October, 1980, pp. 29-30.

"Preaching as Counseling." Proclaim, October-December, 1980, pp. 40-41.

NATIONS, ARCHIE L.

"Reflections." Christian Single, October, 1980,
pp. 44-47.

STEELY, JOHN E.

Review of A History of Baptists in Arkansas, 1818-1978
by Glenn Hinson. Review and Expositor, Summer, 1980,
p. 409

OVERHEAD PROJECTORS IN CLASSROOMS

There are presently four classrooms equipped with overhead projectors and screens; they are J102, J202, A109, and A205. Each of the projectors is equipped with a roll of acetate which you may write on much as you would a chalkboard. When doing so, please use only the non-permanent pens provided in the Stealey Hall supply room. Regular felt-tip pens will not wash off.

Sheets of acetate are available in the AV office for use in class instead of the acetate roll and for advance preparation of transparencies, either your own creation or copied material. We will be happy to assist in preparing transparencies.

Those of you who use the projectors can help us in one important way. If you notice the roll of clean acetate is nearly empty, please notify the AV office so that we can change it before it runs out.
-Ed Sansbury

(Editor's note: We regret that several teachers have been unable to use overhead projectors this semester because their class meets in a room that is not equipped for it. We will shortly request authorization to purchase projectors and screens to be installed in several additional classrooms by next semester.)

BIBLIOGRAPHIC PREPARATION FOR NEW COURSES

Planning to offer a new course that's been approved? Thinking of proposing a new course? In either case, we would like to be as helpful as possible in the necessary bibliographic preparation.

Typically in the past, our help has been only in procuring new materials that you have discovered and requested to support a new course offering. Often, such requests have come too near the beginning of the new course to allow sufficient time for acquisition and processing of materials.

It would seem mutually beneficial if we could get involved even in the preliminary stages of planning for a new course. I think we could, in some cases at least, be of significant help. We would like to try. Let's talk about it.

INDEX TO SBC SEMINARY THESES

The SBC Historical Commission has just sent us the Index of Graduate Theses in Baptist Theological Seminaries, 1976-1979. This sixth volume in the series completes the coverage from 1894 through 1979. Volume 1 in 1969 covered the period 1894-1962. It is interesting to note that neither Golden Gate nor Midwestern had theses completed from 1976-1979.

