

SOUTHEASTERN BAPTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

WAKE FOREST, NORTH CAROLINA

FACULTY LECTURE

Dr. Albert L. Meiburg

Binkley Chapel

Thursday, November 20, 1980

10:00 a.m.

Silent Meditation

Lord, what I once had done with youthful might,
Had I been from the first true to the truth,
Grant me, now old, to do - with better sight,
and humbler heart, if not the brain of youth;
So wilt thou, in thy gentleness and ruth,
Lead back thy old soul, by the path of pain,
Round to his best-young eyes, heart, and brain.

Thou, then as now, no less wilt be my life,
And I shall know it better than before,
Praying and trusting, hoping, claiming more.
From effort vain, sick foil, and bootless strife,
I shall, with childness fresh, look up to thee,
Thou, seeing thy child with age encumbered sore,
Wilt round him bend thine arm more carefully.

(George McDonald)

Organ Prelude

PrayerProfessor Cook

Introduction of the Lecturer

LectureDean Meiburg

"Aging is Becoming"

Benediction

Organ Postlude

Albert L. Meiburg

Dr. Meiburg, Dean of the Faculty and Professor of Pastoral Theology at Southeastern Seminary since 1975, was born in Seneca, South Carolina.

After serving in the U.S. Navy in World War II, he attended Clemson College where he earned the B.S. degree. He received the B.D. and Th.D. degrees from Southern Seminary.

Prior to coming to Southeastern, Dean Meiburg was Professor of Pastoral Theology and Clinical Pastoral Education at Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, New York.

The author of numerous articles for denominational publication, Dr. Meiburg wrote Called to Minister and was the co-author, along with Richard Young, of Spiritual Therapy.

He was chosen to be "Man of the Month," Pastoral Psychology, October, 1960.

