Be a part of Off-Campus Ministries by adopting a grandparent at the Wake Forest Nursing Home. There will be crafts and parties, but the main concern is attention on a one-to-one basis. If you care to participate, contact Laurie McKee, 108 Women's Dorm, 556-9982.

EXPERIENCING THE MOMENT, FEBRUARY 18-20:

Seminary students: This weekend is for you - not just visitors. Agendas of the Conference! activities including the Saturday morning seminars are available in the Student Activities office. Although seminary students pay no registration fee, we would like for you to register as conference participants.

LIFE ENRICHMENT CENTER OFFERINGS:

(1) Parent Effectiveness Training - Your kids neither talk to you nor listen to you enough? You and your kids having frequent conflicts ... each trying to win at the cost of the other's losing? "Have to" punish ... yet you feel guilty and your child feels resentful? Twenty-four hours of practical training focus on the following skills: how to listen so your kids will talk with you; how to talk so your kids will listen to you; how to solve inevitable parent-child conflicts... Instructor, The Rev. Charles Van Wagner. 8 sessions, Thursday evenings, 6:00 - 9:00, beginning Feb. 17. Cost to Seminary students: $20 per couple, $10 single parents. Couples required to take the course together.

(2) Journal Writing Workshop - The Intensive Journal method of personal and spiritual growth developed by Dr. Ira Progoff; a contemporary recovery of a historical practice highly valued in religious tradition. Absolutely no writing talent necessary, nor will sharing your writing be required. The journal process is designed to be a practical meditative discipline, providing a structured way to reflect meaningfully upon the inner flow of one's past and present. This instrument is proving to be a valuable resource for insight, energy and decision making. Instructor, The Rev. Mel Williams. 3 sessions, Feb. 21, 28, & March 7, 7:30-10:00p.m. Cost to Seminary students: $5 per person. Call the Life Enrichment Center at 781-2576 to enroll.

XEROX COPIER SERVICE:

The absence of copier service in the Library during the early days of the semester was caused by a locally unanticipated and sudden decrease in the supply of Xerox copiers. Due to the same supply problem, there is a delay in the installation of the coin-operation attachment. The present method of paying for copies will continue until the coin-op attachment is installed, possibly on Wednesday, Feb. 9.

MONDAY LIBRARY SERVICE FROM 3-4:00:

All persons who use the Library on Mondays from 3-4:00 p.m. are asked to expect two things: (1) basically self-service use of the Library and (2) possible disturbance from staff activities in some user work-areas. This hour is the one time during the week when all Student Assistants and full-time staff can be together for communication, training, and work on special projects.

MAGIC CIRCLE TRAINING SESSION:

This semester there is a new opportunity for volunteer ministry at Wake Forest Elementary School through a human development program called "Magic Circle." Seminary students will lead small groups of children in learning to express their ideas and feelings and to listen to others. The "Magic Circle" program is under the direction of Mrs. Edith Grosch, Guidance Counselor at the school.

A training session led by Mrs. Susan Brady, Peer Counselor at Millbrook Senior High, will be held Monday, February 14, 8:30-12:30 in the Bethea Room on the ground floor of Appleby. Students interested in learning more about the "Magic Circle" program are invited to attend. Attending the training session does not commit one to working in the program, but attendance is required for those who are selected as group leaders. Sign up for the training session in the Field Education Office by Friday, February 11.
